Dear Richard:

The attached correspondence is, I believe self-explanatory. It would appear that [] needs a policy guide for his relationship with Sharq al Adna and possibly the Cyprus Broadcasting station. As far as FBIS is concerned all services provided directly to British activities wherever they may be must be approved by you. Departure from this policy would only compound the confusing situation in the cold war organization of today.

I would appreciate your views and an expression of how you want the Mediterranean Bureau to handle requests for service from Sharq al Adna specifically and other British activities in general.

Sincerely,

25X1
